USE OF SOFTWARE AND ACCESS OF FILES:

Commercial software purchased by the Center for Clinical Epidemiology and Biostatistics (herein referred to as "The CCEB") has granted The University of Pennsylvania (also referred to as "The University") a non-transferable, non-exclusive, limited license to use the licensed software of the designated equipment at the designated site for academic purposes only.

The licenses, the licensed software and any other information provided by these vendors to The University may not be sold, leased, assigned, sub-licensed or otherwise transferred, in whole or in part, by The University.

The license granted hereby shall at all times be subject to patents, trademarks, copyrights and any property or other rights of appropriate vendor relating to the licensed software. Neither the licensee nor its employees or students shall have any right to use the licensed software for any commercial purposes.

The University shall reproduce and apply any copyright notices included on or in the licensed software to any copies, in whole or in part, in any form.

Users shall not use, make, have made, distribute or disclose any copies of the proprietary information, in whole or in part, without the prior written authorization of vendor in question.

Users shall inform its employees or students having access to the proprietary information of licensee's limitation, duties and obligations regarding nondisclosure and copying of the licensed software and shall obtain their written agreement to comply with those limitations, duties and obligations.

Receipts and copies of all CCEB acquired licenses are maintained by Martin Das.

It is the policy of The CCEB that users may not read, copy, execute or modify a file unless the file or project directory owner has given permission to them.

I agree that I will abide by these guidelines, licensing agreements, and The University and The CCEB policy regarding computer use in my use of The CCEB computing facilities. I understand that any violations will result in termination of the account, University disciplinary action, and possible legal action.

In addition, my signature below acknowledges I understand that my electronic signature (i.e. user ID and Password) has the same legal significance as my traditional handwritten signature {Pursuant to Section 11.100 of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulation}. I further understand that I will protect my user ID/password. I agree not to share either with anyone and understand that such activity is strictly prohibited and may be grounds for termination.
